D – Preliminary/Final Subdivision Plat Review for the 5-lot subdivision “Greywoods Subdivision” concerning a portion of parcel 1301120000025.000, approx. 22.58 acres total, filed by Millard Austin

City Planner, Brendan Schwandner described the purpose of this application and stated the Planning Department is still pending the receipt of the correct deed for this property, therefore recommends postponement at this time.

Wayne Biggs questioned if this is the Brewer Rd located off Celeste Rd and in our Planning Jurisdiction. Mr. Schwandner stated this is the correct Brewer Rd.

Chairman Scooter Thronson opened the floor for the public hearing.

Charles Johnson – 3714 Brewer Rd – Stated concerns regarding one of the lots sold across the street from his house has been sold and its swampland. They have Turnerville Water and are concerned about the low water pressure on that road already. Mr. Johnson wanted to know if plans are approved to develop this subdivision, how does that affect their current living & lifestyle. They currently hunt rabbits, squirrels, and deer on his property.

Mayor Howard Rubenstein wanted to get additional information prior to the next meeting in regard to the decision-making process hinging adequate water pressure. Who enforces the water pressure-County? Heath Department? Who’s the responsible body to make sure there is adequate water pressure before building can begin in the county? Also, wants to research how far from a subdivision can hunting be done?

Jessica Dickson – 3778 Brewer Rd – Questioned when this area became part of Saraland.

Mayor Howard Rubenstein described as Saraland expands, every time an annexation is approved and done, the jurisdiction expands, therefore the boundary lines are constantly changing.

Ernest Devew – 3846 Brewer Rd – Questioned where is the Jurisdictions line at? Does it restrict some of the things already done? Livestock?

Mayor Howard Rubenstein stated the Planning Jurisdiction does not affect current homeowners, rights, and livestock. It states that IF someone is going to build a new subdivision, they have to build it according to the City of Saraland’s specs, codes, and ensures that substandard building does not occur in an area that is likely to eventually be annexed.

Chairman Scooter Thronson closed the public hearing.

City Planner, Brendan Schwandner commented after the Planning Department received the original site plan, the applicant was sent a letter by both the Planning Department and the city engineer, Neel-Schaffer, Inc., regarding revisions that needed to be made. The applicant was informed the plans must contain provisions of the tree preservation & landscape plan. On December 9th, the applicant submitted a revised site plan along with a letter which addressed each of the concerns. The revised site plans adequately addressed the comments on landscaping and provided 14 replacement trees and committed to a contribution to the City of Saraland's Tree Bank fund for the remaining trees. The timing for the resubmission didn't allow for a review, therefore approval of this site plan application would be contingent upon engineering reviews, Saraland Fire Safety, Saraland Water & Sewer Department, as well as finalized total for the contribution to the Tree Bank for the remainder of trees.

Planning Commission member, Wayne Biggs, raised concerns about the curb cut of this property and the traffic to and from this facility, and wondered if a traffic study would need to be done.
